INTRO
Welcome!

This study is a joint initiative of Vox Pop Labs, the University of Strathclyde, and the University of Southampton. The purpose of this research is to understand how people in the United Kingdom think about energy and public policy issues.

Before you begin, please read the Participant Information Sheet (PIS), which explains what the study involves, how your data will be used, and your rights as a participant.

Your participation is voluntary. You may skip any question or withdraw at any point before submitting the survey without giving a reason.

To ensure we accurately represent public opinion in the UK, we will ask a few background questions (e.g., region, age, and education). These are used only to make sure all groups are fairly represented in analysis. In accordance with our privacy policy, all data will be kept strictly confidential and results will be reported only in aggregate form. A fully anonymised dataset will be shared securely with the University of Strathclyde research team for academic research and may later be deposited in a research repository for secondary analysis.

Questions or concerns? Contact Professor Thomas J. Scotto at tom.scotto@strath.ac.uk or Vox Pop Labs at hello@voxpoplabs.com.

An anonymised version of the data may also be made available for secondary academic research through a secure research repository. Your identity will never be known to the researchers, and results will only be reported in aggregate form.

By taking part in this survey, you confirm that you:
have read and understood the Participant Information Sheet (PIS), understand that participation is voluntary and you may stop at any time before submitting, and understand that your answers will be collected by Vox Pop Labs and shared with the University of Strathclyde research team in an anonymised format for academic analysis and publication.
An anonymised version of the data may also be made available for secondary academic research through a secure research repository. Your identity will never be known to the researchers, and results will only be reported in aggregate form.

CONSENT Please select one option:

- I agree to participate in this study. (1)
- I do not agree to participate. (2)
